

Cornerstone Technologies, a Silicon-valley based business, provides our Customers with proactive and experienced managed services tailored to meet their IT needs

We do this in the areas we provide implementation and custom integration services to leverage the collective abilities of the team. In other words, the team member(s) assigned to your service team have an entire team behind them for additional support and knowledge.

Our managed services and ad-hoc support services covers the following areas:

- Datacenter systems and infrastructure to run your applications
- IT network systems transporting your critical business information
- Backend applications necessary to operate your business

We Provide the Following Services:

- 24x7 intelligent monitoring
- Regular review of system logs and events to predict potential issues and prevent failures
- Scheduled and regular maintenance to keep systems operating at peak levels
- Execution of necessary software patches to keep systems secure and operating
- Configuration and changes executed according to your needs and in accordance with change management policies
- Automated ticket tracking giving you many ways to send and track your requests
- Consultation to provide recommendations to further improve the systems